

Difusión selectiva de documentos electrónicos
sobre la economía en EE.UU.
10 de junio de 2009

El Centro de Recursos Informativos de la Embajada de Estados Unidos pone a su disposición los siguientes documentos sobre la economía de EE.UU.

Remarks by the President on "Pay as you Go"

The White House
June 9, 2009

Yesterday the President spoke in the East Room of the White House, bearing good news for the taxpayer. The President's intention was to discuss all of the progress already underway on the fiscal responsibility front, from ending the kind of wasteful no-bid contracting we have all come to know, to cutting unnecessary programs, to eliminating subsidies lavished on health insurance companies through Medicare.
http://www.whitehouse.gov/the_press_office/Remarks-by-the-President-on-Pay-As-You-Go/

Accelerating Our Efforts: The Next 100 Days

The White House
June 8, 2009

The President and Vice President met with Cabinet officials today to discuss the wide-ranging effects of the Recovery Act, as well as an ambitious plan announced by the Vice President this morning to accelerate efforts for the next 100 days called the Roadmap to Recovery.
<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/Accelerating-Our-Efforts-The-Next-100-Days/>
<http://www.whitehouse.gov/recovery/roadmap/>

The Economic Case for Health Care Report

The Executive Office of the President. Council of Economic Advisors
June 2009

This report explains in the greatest depth to date why health reform is vital for the future of the American economy.
http://www.whitehouse.gov/assets/documents/CEA_Health_Care_Report.pdf

Health Disparities: A Case for Closing the Gap

HealthReform.gov

The United States spends more than any other nation in the world on health care - in 2007 we spent $2.2 trillion.¹ Despite consistent increases in spending, disparities among demographic groups persist. Low-income Americans and racial and ethnic minorities experience disproportionately higher rates of disease, fewer treatment options, and reduced access to care. With unemployment on the rise, the disparities already apparent among these groups will continue to increase. It is vital that health reform reduces costs to make health care affordable; protects a patient's choice of doctors, hospitals, and insurance plans; invests in prevention and wellness; and assures quality, affordable health care for all Americans.

http://www.healthreform.gov/reports/healthdisparities/disparities_final.pdf

Centro de Recursos Informativos
Embajada de EE.UU. en Madrid

<http://www.embusa.es/irc>

MadridIRC@embusa.es