Massive Open Online Courses (MOOC) enhanced by facilitated discussions at the American Center

Applying to U.S. Universities

from November 16 to January 14, 2015 by University of Pennsylvania

Overview:

This course will help international students (non-U.S. citizens) and non-native English speakers navigate the U.S. university admission process by offering practical information about the documents and pieces that make up a U.S. university application. More importantly, admission officers will discuss how they use those pieces to decide who is accepted and who is denied, so that you can understand the process beyond the pieces. By the end of this course, you will understand application basics that include researching schools, creating a school list, and establishing an application plan. This course will not answer all of your application questions, but it will teach you to ask the right questions of yourself and the universities. Ultimately, you will have all the information you need to start your process the right way, putting you on the path to acceptance.

A certificate from the U.S. Embassy will be provided to students who fully participate in the MOOC and complete the course survey.

Facilitator:

Phuong Nguyen, Ph.D. , Country Director for Vietnam Education Foundation (VEF)
