DESCRIPTION/SPECIFICATIONS/WORK STATEMENT

1. Specifications

The purpose of this to establish a contract with firm-fixed prices for designing, building, assembling and dismantling booth for the U.S. Government at the 2016 SILA book fair located at the SAFEX site in accordance with the Specifications and Standards provided herein.

The Contractor shall design, build, assemble and install the exhibit as per final layout specifications. Successful candidate will have experience designing and building exhibition space.

The Contractor shall be responsible for providing and assembling all materials and equipment required. Utility connections shall adhere to all applicable codes, rules and regulations of the latest edition of the International Building Code, National Electrical Code and National Mechanical code for United States standards or European Code standards. Contractor personnel shall be licensed in the discipline they are performing.

The standard height for all booth walls shall be 3 meters, except if noted elsewhere. Some minor changes in booth layout/size may occur but it is generally limited to lateral movement of the walls. Space should seem “American,” incorporating the standard American flag colors (Red: Pantone 193, Blue: Pantone 281). Space should incorporate our official SILA 2016 logo (available upon request). The Contractor shall ensure that the entire booth is divided into the following four (4) areas:

- 1) Reception/Information Space: space needed for seven people minimum to greet and talk to SILA visitors. Reception space should incorporate a flat-screen color television (minimum 32” diagonal), DVD player and all electrical connections for display of looping videos. The reception space should incorporate one “L” shaped counter behind which staff can sit and store material. The counters should comfortably accommodate 7-9 people. The counters should have built in shelves to store print material and stools or chairs for the booth staff.
- 2) Classroom Space: More than one half of the space should have the appearance of an American public library. In this space, outreach activities such as “Meet the Authors,” book readings, and other events will take place. The space should be “flexible” so that chairs and tables can be moved to set up auditorium style; small conversation-groups of 6 “banquet” style (42 total people); classroom style; U-shaped style; etc.

Maximum capacity for auditorium style should be 50. The space should include a “teachers” desk for the program leader. The space requires a minimum 50” flat-screen color television with DVD player for computer projections and a 70” white board. For security reasons, space should appear open but with limited access. Space should have egress (door) on at least two sides. Entrance to the library should have the ability to be controlled and doors installed with locks. For the more open look, plexiglass should be used as the majority of the walls, as well as for the two doors, so that visitors to the Book Fair can see the activities taking place from the outside. Book display: 100 linear feet of book shelving, toward front of space, for display.

- 3) VIP seating space: A small, comfortable space for VIP visitors, speakers, and reporters to conduct interviews. The space should hold seating for five people and small table, and coffee/tea maker. Walls should be solid (not plexiglass).
- 4) Closet/storage space: A small, fully enclosed space with built in shelves to store enough flyers to give away during the entirety of the SILA; promotional items; books; and other items. Walls should be solid (not plexiglass). The space needs a small refrigerator. Space should also have hooks to hang bags and coats for employees who work during the SILA to store their belongings. The door to the space needs to have a key/lock to keep items in space secure. Entry to the storage closet should not be through the classroom space, as activities will be ongoing, or through the VIP seating area.

The contractor shall be responsible for the installation of all electrical/plumbing/telecommunication requirements as designated in the final approved design and layout. The Contractor is required to obtain all necessary permits and licenses necessary to perform this work and this is included in the contract price.

All supplies and equipment used in this project will remain the Contractor's property except government furnished property.

The contractor should either rent or directly supply the list of furnishings/fixtures below. Please note, the Embassy will not be purchasing these items from the contractor at the end of SILA:

- stools or chairs for the booth staff in the Reception/Information space
- small refrigerator for the storage closet

The Contractor shall provide sufficient personnel during the show to "trouble-shoot" and resolve any installation and/or maintenance type problems regarding Contractor furnished equipment. Further, he shall be responsible for the correct placement and installation, and proper functioning of such equipment during the show.

The Contractor shall remove all residual material and equipment before the exhibit begins and shall dismantle and remove all materials and equipment upon completion of the show.
