

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM DAY

January 16,
2010

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a lit candle. The hand is positioned in the center of the frame, with the fingers slightly curled around the candle. The candle is lit, and its flame is bright and steady. The background is dark, making the hand and the candle stand out. The lighting is warm, highlighting the texture of the skin and the wax of the candle.

"No man shall... suffer on account of his religious opinions or belief."

The Virginia Statute
for Religious Freedom
January 16, 1786