My Inspiring Teacher

I love all my teachers, but I want to tell you about my English teacher, Miss Varduhi. She has a great influence on me, on my ways of thinking, because she is very clever, kind, friendly and nice. I like her methods of teaching. Due to her I study English with great pleasure both at home and at school. During our English lessons we make posters, play different games related with the English language, make our lessons more interesting and interactive. We always attend the English lessons, try to be very punctual and not to get any low grades. Our English teacher is very pleased with us .She loves us as much as we love her and she conducts her lessons with high mood and spirit. She pays much attention to me and all my classmates and she is always ready to help us with any question. As I like her and her lessons very much, I work hard at my English and try to improve it every day. I want to become an English teacher or a translator. Due to her I have realized how important it is to know English nowadays. English is spoken in many countries of the world and it has become an international language. We need to know English if we want to travel, to find a well-paid job, to use high technologies, to study abroad. I understand this very well and will do my best to master this nice and so important language. My English teacher tells us different interesting stories about English speaking countries. She introduces us with the American and British culture, literature and traditions. I always listen to them with much interest and it has become one of my essential dreams of my life to go to the USA to meet people living there, to listen the history of their country and see different places of interest there. It doesn't matter how hard the life is, I hope that one day my dream will come true. I can't forget my first day of starting learning English. That nice lady entered our class .In a short time she could captured us with her profound knowledge, her nice character, manners of speaking , with her charm. At first I was a little afraid, but then I understood the meaning of this new world key. I imagine all the doors , which can be opened only with the knowledge of a foreign language. Once during the lesson our teacher didn't feel well and she chose me to help her to continue the lesson. And that day I understood how difficult it is to be a teacher, especially a good teacher, but I tried and did it with pleasure. I understood the seriousness and hardness of my teacher's work and since then I have decided to become an English teacher and I can proudly say that my English teacher has really been and is the inspiration of my future career.
