*Marc Sageman is an independent researcher on terrorism and the founder of Sageman Consulting, LLC. He holds various academic positions at the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Maryland, and national think tanks. After graduating from Harvard, he obtained an M.D. and a Ph.D. in sociology from New York University. In 1984, he joined the Central Intelligence Agency, working in Afghanistan and India. In 1991, he resigned from the agency and completed a residency in psychiatry at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. Since 1994, he has been in the private practice of forensic and clinical psychiatry. After 9/11, he started collecting biographical material on about 400 Al Qaeda terrorists to test the validity of the conventional wisdom on terrorism. This research has been published as Understanding Terror Networks (University of Pennsylvania Press 2004) and Leaderless Jihad (UPP, 2007). As an expert on Al Qaeda and related terrorist organizations, he has consulted with various branches of the U.S. government, as well as with foreign governments, including Germany, Britain, Spain, France and Canada.*
