

My Dream is to be God for a day...

The universe, World, Human, Life...

Sometimes the most perfect, but in some cases the simplest... Everything is born, lives and dies in life. How easy these three things are, but we mostly think of living and living and dying and try to change these two realities. But how we can, it's under the question mark. Some think we can, others think we can't ... I've believe all my life that everything is up to us, everything is in our hands. And I've never complaint of my destiny. Because I don't believe in destiny, means I don't want to believe in it. Because it drives me mad to think of the controlling of all my life, choices, family by the creator, in fact, I can't accept being unimportant of my choices, decisions. Because I'm vigorous and as a man I can overcome of everything. Or I'm not right!?!

However, I think of that for a long, long time, but I can't make a decision. As if, there is volcano inside me, that is going to break out. But if it breaks out it will cause to the trouble of many people, they will call me "kafir". But what is "kafir"? Shortly it means to deny the exciting of God. And it is very deep and controversial theme. Because God is the theme that is impossible to give the full explanation of it. Thinking about that as if a person enters the room. Which has millions of doors and lost the way. Of course, I believe in God but also know that is not the same as the people think... Along the history humans try to believe mystical forces always try to believe the exciting of extraordinary creatures. Among these creatures the most interesting, perfect,suspectous is "Allah". "Allah has created the universe, world, life is controlling them."- of course people believe that. I also want to believe that because I'm afraid of punishing. That because I think no one knows exactly the exciting of "Allah". But it is important to know what we believe in. And our truth is that Allah is controlling everything we deeply believe that.

My dream may be impossible, maybe I don't want its realising. It is to be God for a day. As Allah is a symbol of might, greatness I always want to be great, mighty like God. And in this way I can find the answers of the questions that I am thinking of. And in this way I can learn the origin if of the mankind. I can see what is actually the life is-nothing is the same as seemed in life. I could see the unknowns as I told at the beginnings of my writings, my wish is controversial. Because if I was a God I would have to lose the perfect qualities of "Human". Actually I'll not find the answers of my questions about the universe, but I'll see the happiness in my mother's eyes, when I get my achievements. Maybe I'll never know the truth of the universe, but I'll be myself truth for my family, for the people around me.
