

RETURNING RESIDENT QUESTIONNAIRE

If you have been absent from the United States for a period of less than one year, and you have your Alien Registration Receipt Card (Green Card) in your possession, you may return to the United States solely on the basis of that card and a valid passport.

According to U.S. Immigration law and regulations, the bearer of an Alien Registration Receipt Card must enter the U.S. before being absent from there for a continuous period of one year. There is no provision in the law, which provides for an extension of the validity period of an alien Registration Receipt Card.

If you have been outside the United States for a continuous period of one year or more, you may qualify for Returning Resident visa status. In order that office may determine your eligibility for this status, please answer the following questions as completely as possible.
