

U.S. Embassy Offers Graduate Scholarships to Belarusian Students

The U.S. Embassy in Belarus is pleased to announce the availability of at least 2 scholarships for Belarusian students who have already obtained a bachelor's degree. This special opportunity for the 2014-15 academic year maintains the legacy of the Edmund S. Muskie Program under the auspices of the Fulbright Foreign Student Program.

The program enables graduate students or young professionals from Belarus to research and study for up to two years at U.S. universities to pursue master's degrees in the traditional, Muskie fields of: economics, education, environmental policy and management, international affairs, journalism and mass communication, law, library and information science, public administration, public health, and public policy. Participants are selected through an open, merit-based competition.

In addition to these scholarships, internships will be available on a competitive basis. This competition will take place in the U.S., once participants have initiated their studies there.

Eligibility requirements:

- Belarusian citizenship
- Proficiency in written and spoken English
- Completed undergraduate education and a degree equivalent to a bachelor's degree.

On-line applications must be submitted by November 8, 2013. Applications are available at: <https://apply.embark.com/student/fulbright/international/20/> For additional questions, call the Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy at 375-17-217-04-81.

The program offers equal opportunities to all applicants and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sexual orientation, religion, national or ethnic origin, native language, handicap or disability.
