BioFach 2014

February 12-15, 2014

Exhibition Centre Nürnberg

Nürnberg, Germany

Dear BioFach Visitor:

Willkommen in Deutschland! It is my pleasure to welcome you to the USA Pavilion at BioFach 2014.

The United States and the European Union entered into an organic equivalence arrangement in 2012 that has made it much easier for European food retailers and food manufactures to buy U.S. products and ingredients. BioFach is a great place to build on this opportunity and USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service is here to help.

If you are a visitor to the USA Pavilion, we can help you find U.S. suppliers of organic products and we can tell you more about organic and sustainable U.S. agriculture.

If you are a U.S. exhibitor, USDA/FAS offers free of charge our EU Organic Marketing Information Report, market advice, and our exclusive contact list of Germany's most important traders, producers and retailers of organic foods and ingredients.

For more information, including FAS market reports and upcoming activities, please see: www.usda-mideurope.com

We look forward to seeing you at our booth Hall 2 – Nr. 2-729 C

Sincerely,

Paul Spencer

The Organic Trade Association (OTA) is the membership-based business association for the organic industry in North America. OTA's mission is to promote organic trade to benefit the environment, farmers, the public and the economy. OTA envisions organic organic products becoming a significant part of everyday life, enhancing people's lives and environment.

OTA represents businesses across the organic supply chain and addresses all things organic, including food, fiber/textiles, personal care products and new sectors as they develop. Over sixty percent of OTA trade members are small businesses.
