

Fulbright Guest Lecture Program

Since 1983

The Educational Exchanges staff of the U.S. Embassy is pleased to offer the 2004-05 Fulbright Guest Lecture Program to your university. A directory of U.S. Fulbright Lecturers in China during the academic year 2004-05 is enclosed.

The U.S. Fulbright Lecturer Program focuses on the development of American studies in Chinese universities. Lecturers with expertise in American history, literature, politics and society and culture, as well as business, economics, journalism, public administration, and higher education teach in selected host university departments for one or two academic terms.

In order to make the resource represented by the U.S. Lecturers available to the wider academic community in China, the Fulbright Guest Lecture Program, initiated in 1983, supports U.S. Lecturer travel away from their host universities to make presentations to various academic audiences throughout China.

Universities wishing to arrange for Guest Lectures on their campuses should send a written invitation (via mail, fax or e-mail) directly to the U.S. Lecturer. Your university should provide free, adequate housing and, if requested, assist in booking return tickets to the Lecturer's host institution. The Fulbright Program will pay for travel expenses to and from the Guest Lecture host institution once at least two lectures have been arranged.

After choosing among the Lecture Topics and arranging for one or two Lectures on your campus, or having interested faculty members do so, please be sure to announce the event among the appropriate departments or the university at-large. We also recommend that you take this opportunity to introduce your guest to the local culture and cuisine, as well as relevant university faculty.

Please contact Mr. Daniel Hutchens, Mr. Yang Jiawei or Ms. Oh Mee Lee with any questions or suggestions.

U.S. EMBASSY, BEIJING
Public Affairs Section
American Center for Educational Exchanges (ACEE)
Jingguang Center, Suite 2801
Educational Exchanges Staff
Phone: (010) 6597-3242
Fax: (010) 6597-3247
Email: LeeOM@state.gov, YangJl@state.gov
OR HutchensD@state.gov

- FREE Lectures
- American Professors with expertise American History, Business Administration, Economics, Higher Education, Journalism, Law, Literature, Politics and Public Administration
- Requires ONLY that your university provide free, adequate housing
- Seeks a general audience of students and faculty