I. Apostille

The Hague convention abolishing requirement of legalization for foreign public documents.

APOSTILLE for documents issued in France:

On October 15, 1981, the United States became a party to the Hague Convention abolishing the requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents. The Convention simplifies the procedures of French Documents destined for use in the United States. France is also a party to the convention. French documents legalized by Apostille are also valid in other countries that have signed the Convention.

Documents affected include French Public records (birth, death, marriage certificate, probate documents, Government-certified documents, etc. as well as documents witnessed by French "Notaires" and lawyers. In France, there is no charge for the Apostille, which normally should be ready for pick up in 24 hours.

APOSTILLE INFORMATION:

For Paris Residents, please go to the following office:

PALAIS DE JUSTICE

The Office of American Services continues to perform notarial services for those wishing to execute documents in the presence of a U.S. Consular Officer. The current fee for notarial services per document is $30 (or the equivalent in euros). Notarials can be done Monday-Friday between 9AM-12PM (closed on French and American holidays). Please bring a passport or other photo ID (passport, "carte d'identité", or driver's Apostille in the U.S.

Apostille for documents issued in the U.S.:

If you have a document which you want legalized for use in another Convention country, the Convention certification called an "apostille" must be affixed to the document by a competent authority. The apostille is a pre-printed form prescribed by the Convention.

PROCEDURE: If you have a document which you want legalized for use in another Convention country, the Convention certification called an "apostille" must be affixed to the

Since the authorities designated by the U.S. to affix the apostille can only attest to the validity of certain seals, it may be necessary for you to obtain some intermediate seals on your document, depending on the origin of the document, before the apostille can be affixed. There is no single U.S. competent authority to issue the Convention apostille. There are different authorities for documents originating in state and local jurisdictions, Federal courts and Federal government agencies. Contact the competent local authority who will affix the certification (apostille) on your document. There follows in appendix A (available in autofax form) of this flyer a chart which summarizes the process and a list of competent authorities. If it is necessary for you to obtain some intermediate seals on your document before obtaining the Convention apostille, consult the appropriate state or federal authority listed.

Hague "Apostille" Authentication Certificate:

Article 7 of the Convention provides for the use of a standardized authentication certificate called an "apostille". A sample apostille certificate is provided in Appendix B of this flyer. The apostille consists of the following: 1) name of country from which the document emanates; 2) name of person signing the document; 3) the capacity in which the person signing the document has acted; 4) in the case of unsigned documents, the name of the authority which has affixed the seal or stamp; 5) place of certification; 6) date of certification; 7) the authority issuing the certificate; 8) number of certificate; 9) seal or stamp of authority issuing certificate; 10) signature of authority issuing certificate.

J. The Prefectures and Sous-Prefectures

The Préfecture is the building which houses the various department's responsible for civil administration in a given département. Each département is broken down for administrative purposes into arrondissements (districts). The Sous-Préfecture is the building which offers the same services at district level.

THEIR MISSION

The préfet, "represents the Government and is responsible for national interests, administrative control and respect of the law" (taken from article 72 of the Constitution of October 4th 1958).

The préfetures and the sous-préfetures are Home Office Departments and can be considered as "real houses of the State". They also provide support for the Préfet both in the carrying out of his inter-ministerial duties and in setting in motion different State departmental policies :

- Safety in all its different forms, working hand in hand with the Police Department, the Gendarmerie, and the Fire and Ambulance Services,

- Citizenship, laws, rules and regulations and the guarantee of civil liberties :

to organise elections, to issue official documents (such as identity cards, passports, driving licences, motor vehicle registrations, residence permits...). The préfecture provides services to more people than any other State department.

- Relations with local communities (collectivités) : providing legal and financial advice, checking on respect of the law, and financial control and monitoring, but also working in partnership with local authorities on the implementation of public policy decisions.
