THE AMERICAN CORNER, LECIAD, UNIVERSITY OF GHANA, LEGON.

Welcome to the American Corner LECIAD. The American Corner and the Legon Centre for International Affairs and Diplomacy (LECIAD) are together bringing the United States of America a step closer to the public, creating awareness among the university students and staff and the general public through the establishment of the AMERICAN CORNER. The American Corner (AC) LECIAD is an extension of the US Embassy Public Affairs Section of the US Embassy in Accra. The aim of the American Corner is to provide a much more open environment for the Ghanaian public to access information on the United States, highlighting important issues in the United States as related to the development of the people and their country and the world at large. It also aims at strengthening the capacity of users on national and international issues in order to equip them with relevant information.

We offer to the Ghanaian Public free of charge Information resources which include internet access. Come and use our books, databases, do research projects, and learn about American democracy and society at the American Corner LECIAD located at the University of Ghana, Legon Campus, with in the Legon centre for international Affairs and Diplomacy Building (LECIAD). The American Corner is the best place at Legon to learn about America.
