FOREIGN ISSUES

FOREIGN EARNED INCOME EXCLUSION

- May be able to exclude up to $80,000 of EARNED income.
- Must be EARNED income (not dividends, interest, pensions, social security).
- Wages must be earned on foreign soil.
- Compensation from US Government or Military does not qualify for exclusion

Two requirements must be met:

- Tax home in foreign country (generally one's place of business) and
- Meet either.....
 - A. Bona Fide Residence Test or
 - B. Physical Presence Test

Bona Fide Residence Test

- Must be a resident of a foreign country for an uninterrupted period that includes an entire tax year.
- Brief trips to U.S. okay.

Physical Presence Test

- Must be physically present in foreign country 330 full days during any period of 12 consecutive months.
- Any 12 months can be used, as long as they are consecutive.
- Can use form 2350 for extension to qualify for physical presence test.

How do I claim the exclusion?

Complete Form 2555 or 2555-EZ

Can use Form 2555-EZ if:

- Total foreign income less than $80,000
- No business or moving expenses
- Earn only wages, no self employment income

Requirements are applied separately to each individual

- Husband and wife could be eligible to exclude up to $80,000 of income each for a total exclusion of $160,000.

Foreign Tax Credit

- Eliminates double taxation of same income.
- Must have income from a foreign source on which you are taxed by a foreign country.
- Tax imposed must be an income tax.
- Must not derive any benefit from the tax.

Generally, you will claim the Foreign Tax Credit on Form 1116

Some situations allow you to report credit directly
On Form 1040, line 47:

- When all foreign source income is from dividends or interest and
- Total foreign taxes less than $300, or $600 if Married Filing Jointly.

Otherwise, use Form 1116

- Separate Form 1116 is used for different categories of income (wages, passive income such as interest, dividends, and rents, etc.).
- Cannot claim foreign tax credit for tax related to income excluded on Form 2555 (Foreign Income Exclusion).

Foreign Financial Accounts and Trusts

- Must be reported on Schedule B, Part III of Form 1040.
- Form TD F 90-22.1: Must also file if aggregate value of financial accounts exceed $10,000 at any time during the year.
- Form TD F 90-22.1 filed to: Dept. of Treasury by June 30, 2006 (not filed with 1040).
- Civil Penalty of up to $10,000 applies to failure to report foreign financial accounts. For willful failure, penalty is up to $100,000.

What About Social Security Taxes?

- U. S. has entered into Totalization Agreements with several countries.

Totalization Agreements:

- Eliminate dual Social Security taxation.
- Help fill gaps in benefit protection for workers who have divided their careers between U.S. and another country.

Tax Treaties

A Tax Treaty is intended to:

- Further enhance U.S. economic interests and
- Enhance investment by
- Providing for mutual cooperation and exchange of information
- Prevent double taxation

TAX TREATIES

- Most US Tax Treaties contain a Savings Clause which prevents US citizens residing abroad from using Tax Treaty articles to simultaneously exempt their income from both US and Foreign tax
