

Yao-Hui Huang

Co-Founder and Managing Director, The Hatchery

Yao-Hui Huang is a highly entrepreneurial executive who works with businesses and startups in many industries with a focus on technology, helping them to grow their organizations in a market-smart and cost-effective way. Yao has started and run several companies in the technology, digital media, and venture space.

She is a cofounder and Managing Director of The Hatchery, a venture collaboration organization with international reach bridging the gap between entrepreneurs and investors through resources, advisory, funding and building communities.

She has had multiple successes as an entrepreneur and supports other companies in advisory and C level management roles. Dr. Huang started with an extensive career in pharmaceutical sciences including Johnson & Johnson, Wyeth, and Merck. She transitioned out of the healthcare industry to follow opportunities in technology where she helped companies achieve revenue and extend a vision into the upcoming market trends.