ELASTIC WEBBING (EW)

- 1 Back Pillows – Filled with premium quality high-resiliency fiber, encased in channeled ticking.
- 2 Seat Cushions – The standard cushion in this style is Ultraplus (ULP), which is a high-resiliency 1.8 density polyurethane foam core and is totally encompassed with a plush polyester fiber wrap. A non-woven fabric ticking encases the unit. Thomasville recommends the standard seat cushion on each style, but numerous options are available.
- 3 Back Construction – Thomasville uses steel springs, elastic webbing, or reinforced polypropylene covered by foam and resilient fiber batting.
- 4 Arms – Shaped with a high-density, contour-cut foam inner pad on the top of the arm, an overall foam pad and one or more layers of resilient fiber batting.
- 5 Outside Arms and Back – Fiber padded for insulation of leather or fabric from frame and added durability.
- 6 Frames – Made with engineered laminated woods for most internal parts and kiln dried hardwoods for most external parts. All Sofas and Loveseats are reinforced with center support rails.
- 7 Joints – Numerous joining methods are used including interlocking tenons and double doweled joints, both of which are reinforced by glue and staples. Another joining method features steel reinforcement plates. Legs are glued, secured by screws and reinforced by corner blocks. Some items feature legs that are removable, as indicated in the Price List.
- 8 Seat Structure – The Elastic Webbing (EW) system features engineered elastic webbing interwoven to form a highly supportive seating surface.
- 9 Seat Decks – The Elastic Webbing is covered with 1/2" padding and finished with woven denim seat deck material.
Note: This cut-away is representative of our Elastic Webbing construction.
