

ENTRY #6

JAMAICA, from the Taino word 'xaymaca' means the land of wood and water. Home of the fastest men and women, a country which holds over 2 million people, there's no better place you want to be than on the white sandy beach of the popular renown Dunn's river falls in our cool golden sunlight. However like the great Sir Martin Luther king, I have a dream for an inclusive Jamaica, that one day: our roads will be better, that our job opportunities will increase, that our government systems will improve, that all students handicapped or normal will receive education, that the land of Jamaica will earn enough income to stand on our feet's without struggle, and that all the hands black, white or Chinese will come together holding hands to uplift Jamaica and make a better inclusive Jamaica.

It's obvious that we all are seeking and hoping for a better Jamaica, a Jamaica where we all can live as one and enjoy the richness of our land. Firstly the dream of better roads must come true because our roads is our only form of transportation around this country, more roads need to be made in rural areas because places are hidden in faraway places that is needed to be found to fulfill my dream. Lands upon lands, hills upon hills, forest upon forest are out there in our beautiful country awaiting on us, just to help us make this an inclusive Jamaica, but we need new and improved roads to lead us to them so that we can enjoy the beauty that was hidden from us. The truth is we have failed our land as a set of people, because when our land needs us to attend to them we can't because we have no roads leaded to them to attend to them. So with the planning of making new roads employments will be opened to our unemployed citizens. But this will only happen because?

We have not only failed our country but we have failed our friends, our families, our neighbors, our entire citizens, because where one should help the other get employed and get a job we push each other away and turn them down, but I have a dream for an inclusive Jamaica that job will be created for the unemployed. The dream to make not only the young but the old, the handicapped, the blind, the deaf and those that are special can use their skills that God have given to them to help earn a live so that we can make a better Jamaica, an inclusive Jamaica where we all can be happy and indeed enjoy Jamaica. The dream to create more employment in all areas to make new shops, banks, hotels, companies etc just to make a wider range of job opportunities for everyone in our country. With the dream to improve our government system will allow us to make an inclusive Jamaica.

We fuss and we fight we curse and we start a war against each other. What are we? Are we one or are we two? Are we together or are we apart? Are we trying to build our country or are we trying to tear it apart? A dream to make a better country a dream where we don't have separate parties fighting to rule our country but all the parties joining as one to fight against the antagonist that's trying to pull us down; that's my dream. One day there will be no Jamaica labour party or no People national part but we will be one 'The Jamaican Labour for the people's national party', Just to work as one party to fight for our country to stand for our country so that everyone in our country is accounted for and has a say in our decisions making. But I have a dream for an inclusive Jamaica so that we can enjoy, but this will only happen because?

I have a dream for an inclusive Jamaica where everyone will receive education, the handicapped will be taught, the normal will be taught, the blind deaf, the insane and those who are special will be taught and everyone in Jamaica will receive education. A man once told me learning and having an education is the key to success and that we as a country is aiming for success in the eyes of everyone in our country. How to read and write and have everyone educated is essential and to foe everyone to enjoy education is my dream. The religious education is to be taught to every so that everyone can have a belief.

My dream is for Jamaica not to look towards any country for major support other than our mother country but to look towards our creator for all the help we need. My dream for our country to have enough income to make our little country called Jamaica flourish. A dream of mine where income is there to support students, workers, businesses etc, so that a profit can be gained and used help to make Jamaica inclusive for enjoyment. A Jamaica that I dream of where income will be made to build better infrastructure for not only us but for our visitors also, income to build roads all around the rural areas and a income to build more schools universities to educate more people so that they can grow and help out to have an inclusive Jamaica. But this dream will only happen because?

I have a dream for an inclusive Jamaica, that one day everyone will be included, that all the hands small or big, black or white will come together to join hands to stand and make Jamaica a better inclusive Jamaica. A dream of better roads, better government systems, more education for every citizen and more income received. My dream is a success that has not happened yet. One man may not can do all this it may take decades upon decades to have this success, but I have a dream for and inclusive Jamaica but this will only happen because like sir Barrack Obama, with the motivation of the great sir Martin Luther King and the inspiration of sir Barrack Obama, I Sherwin Henry will help to make Jamaica into that dream so that everone citizens or visitors can enjoy. In God we trust. Thank you.
