Part IV. Profile of services available in the host country regarding preparation and shipment of remains

Death is a time of crisis for one's family and friends no matter where it takes place. If death occurs overseas, the experience can be even more traumatic, especially if the procedures involved are not clearly understood. The American Citizen Services Unit (ACS) can assist family and friends in the event of the death of an U.S. Citizen in Kosovo. The ACS Unit can act as a liaison in arranging the disposition of remains and help with forwarding personal effects on your behalf if there is no one present to do so. Always reports deaths or medical emergencies to the local authorities (the 911 equivalent in Kosovo is 112). There are several important things that the next of kin must do in conjunction with the Embassy.

When reporting a death to the Embassy, please convey if possible the deceased person's name, date and place of birth, passport number, date and place of death, cause of death, and location of the remains. The Embassy also needs the full name and phone number of the next of kin if available, and information as to whether or not the next of kin has already been notified.

Even if no assistance is needed in making funeral arrangements, the death of an U.S. Citizen, whether resident or tourist, should be reported to the ACS Unit so that a "Consular Report of Death of an American Citizen Abroad" can be issued. This document is necessary to settle legal and estate matters in the United States.

In cases where the Embassy learns of the death of an American in Kosovo, it will determine as quickly as possible who is the next of kin of the deceased and contact that person by telephone immediately. The Embassy will seek to assist the next of kin in carrying out their wishes. Generally, the next of kin is the spouse, adult children, parent(s), or the siblings of the deceased.

Next of kin must complete an Affidavit of Surviving Spouse or Next of Kin, have it notarized, and send both a copy by email and the original by express mail if not present in Kosovo. If present in Kosovo, the next of kin may complete the form in the ACS Unit and have it notarized during business hours. This affidavit is for Embassy use so in assisting with the disposition of remains and provisional disposition of effects. This affidavit does not serve in place of decisions made by a will, probate, and/or litigation in determining the final disposition of the deceased's effects, possessions, and/or funds.

Deaths of U.S. military members, including civilian, should be reported to the appropriate branch of service, not to the Consular Section. Please contact +381 (0)38 5959-3000 and ask to speak to the Defense Attaché Office during business hours or the Defense Attaché Duty Officer after hours. If the deceased was a retired member of the United States Armed Forces, please let the Embassy know so it can put you in touch with the appropriate service's Office of Mortuary Affairs in the United States. Burial flags are available from the Veteran's Administration for most veterans who were honorably discharged. Contact the VA for details.

a. Disposition of Remains (general information)

The following general information is provided to assist families in their initial decisions. Indicated costs are estimates based on deaths with no unusual circumstances and should be considered for guidance purposes only. U.S. funeral home costs will need to be added when repatriation is chosen. Many regulatory and documentary procedures and requirements, including those outlined here, are still evolving and are subject to change without notice.

Costs for all options will vary depending on from where the remains must be transported and the quality of casket desired. The varying exchange rate of the U.S. Dollar and the Euro will also affect these costs. Please note that all costs listed here are estimates, and are subject to change. The ACS Unit will work with the funeral service to ensure proper documentation for shipment of remains to the United States if that is the instruction. Should you decide to have the burial take place in Kosovo, local officials will take every possible care to follow your wishes.

The costs for burial in Kosovo (not embalmed) are approximately $1,500. Should you decide to have your loved one's remains returned to the United States for burial, the costs would be substantially greater due to the high cost of airfreight and embalming. The total cost for preparation and air shipment of the remains to the United States can start from $8,000 to $12,000 depending on final destination. For exchange rate information, please go to <http://web.gfs.state.gov/xrates.htm>

b. Morgues

If a U.S. citizen dies in Kosovo, the remains will normally be taken to the morgue at the Department of Forensic Medicine in Pristina located within the University Clinical Center complex. This facility is the sole morgue in Kosovo. There is no fee for storage. Tel: +381-(0)38-200-18-555.

c. Special circumstances

In cases of deaths under suspicious circumstances, local law enforcement will make a determination of further steps required, including autopsy. Based on the local law on infectious diseases, in case of deaths with infectious disease, the Kosovo Food and Veterinary Agency is responsible to issue proper certificates. Contact information is available at <http://www.auv-ks.net/?page=1,18> or by calling Mr. Ibrahim Tershnjaku at +381(0)38-200-38-358, +377-(0)44-160-700. The funeral home would be responsible for coordinating issuance of such certificates with the Food and Veterinary Agency.

Many factors can affect how much time will be needed to prepare your loved one's remains for return to the United States. Because of these many variables, it is best not to make final plans for a ceremony until the Embassy and funeral home with which you are working can provide a firm timetable.

The Embassy cannot authorize any preparation of remains until the proper funds are deposited. Therefore, it is imperative that the necessary funds and instructions are provided as soon as possible after a death occurs.

- Direct Bank Wire Transfer to the Mortuary Service

If costs are to be borne by relatives or friends in the United States, the quickest means of transmission is to make an arrangement directly with the mortuary service to transfer funds electronically.

- Telegraphic Transfer

If that is not possible, you can telegraphically send funds to the Office of Overseas Citizens Services (OCS), Department of State, Washington, D.C. for forwarding to the Embassy in Pristina and later to the mortuary service in Kosovo. Any unused funds will be returned after all bills have been paid.

To send funds via the Department of State, please call 1-888-407-4747 from 8AM to 8PM EST weekdays. Funds sent during non-business hours may not be processed until the next business day. Also visit the State Department's travel site, "Sending Money to U.S. Citizens Overseas".

d. Shipping

In-country transportation by car is available. Please see funeral services for additional information, including costs. International shipping is available. Major airlines like Lufthansa, Turkish Airlines, and Adria offer flights. Shipment costs are determined by the airline after the remains are accepted for shipment. However, the air shipment of remains alone can run from $6,000 to $10,000 depending on the final destination. This does not include cost for preparation and in-country transportation of remains. Please note that there are no direct flights from Pristina to the United States so there must be at least one stop in a third country, usually Austria, Germany, Slovenia, or Turkey. If the remains change airlines, they must enter quarantine and remain there for 24 hours; any associated costs should be included in the shipment expenses. Cargo services should be notified in advance about the transportation of remains.

e. Local authorities responsible for making findings regarding the cause of death and for issuing death local certificates.

Every death should be recorded in the Death Registry. According to the Law on Civil Status, deaths should be registered in the municipality where the death occurred no later than 30 days for those occurring within the territory of Kosovo.

The law generally requires that registration of death be carried out by members of the family of the deceased. To register the death, the person applying for registration of the deceased should present a medical report confirming the death. The civil status office at the municipality will then provide the local Death Certificate and burial permit.

Kosovo law requires disposition of remains as soon as the permit is issued by the municipal registrar unless the remains are to be shipped outside the country. If unable to get the permit for local disposition of remains, the municipal registrar should be notified within three working days.

NOTICE: Please note that if the death registration procedure is not carried out, the law requires the imposition of a fine.

(1) Maximum Period Before Burial

Kosovo law does not specify a maximum period before burial. However disposition of remains can be carried out as soon as the burial permit is issued by the municipal registrar unless the remains are to be shipped outside the country. Remains can be preserved at a morgue's cold storage facilities until repatriated to the United States.

Local burial is available in all municipalities in Kosovo. Fees are governed by local city halls. The example below applies to the Pristina municipality.

Burial in Pristina

Fees include the casket, preparation, and burial. A plot in the local cemetery (located in the Dragodan area of Pristina) currently costs 60 Euros, and 30 Euro charge is levied for the site work. Transportation costs of approximately 1.5€ (approx. $2) per kilometer each way should be added to the above total.

The local cemetery in Pristina is run by "Hortikultura." Its telephone number is: +381-(0)38-248-071, +381-(0)38-229-171. Email: hortikultura@hotmail.com

(2) Embalming

Both superficial embalming and full embalming is performed upon request (preferably within 10 hours) and after paying the appropriate fees to the funeral service.

(3) Cremation

Cremations are not performed in Kosovo; the only options for disposition of remains are local burial or repatriation to the United States.

(4) Caskets and Containers

The funeral service "Loti" provides caskets; the cost varies by quality.

(5) Exportation of Remains

For repatriating remains to the United States, it is necessary to have your loved one's remains prepared for shipment, make shipping arrangements with an airline, and obtain certain documents. The funeral service can provide a zinc coffin and wooden packing crate for shipping.

Your loved one's remains will need to be received in the United States by a licensed funeral home. You will need to make arrangements for receipt with the funeral director of your choice. Preparation and air shipment are carried out in accordance with the laws of and facilities available in Kosovo; in some cases, the services fall short of those expected in the United States. We recommend that you ask the U.S. funeral director of your choice to determine the advisability of viewing the remains.

The following documents should accompany the remains:

A. Consular Mortuary Certificate

This document is designed to control the orderly shipment of the remains and facilitate U.S. customs clearance. The certificate indicates how the shipment is marked, the method of transport to the United States, and the specific place and scheduled time of arrival of the remains at the POE. The accompanying documents should be affixed to the consular mortuary certificate, and must be signed by the consular officer and impressed with the consular seal.

B. Certificate of Death

The appropriate municipality issues a death certificate only after the Medical Report of Death is registered by the family member or designated representative. Because this document is required for burial, shipping, and preparation of the Consular Report of Death Abroad, it is essential that the Medical Report of Death be filed immediately upon receipt.

C. Affidavit by the Local Funeral Director.

The affidavit or sworn declaration of the funeral director or person responsible for preparing the remains for shipment must state that the casket contains only the remains of the deceased and the necessary clothing and/or packing. When necessary to comply with any state regulations, the affidavit should also contain a statement that the body has been embalmed or otherwise prepared. If practicable, the affidavit should be executed before a consular officer. When this is not practicable, it must be executed before a qualified local official whose signature can be authenticated by a consular officer.

D. Transit permit

Based on local laws and procedures, a transit permit is not currently required in Kosovo.

(6) Costs

Preparation of remains charges by Funeral Home "Loti":

* Exhumation	1200 € (approx. $2400)
* Transport	(each way) 2x1.5 € (approx. $3)

NOTICE: The funeral service company does not observe the official exchange rate, but has its own exchange rate of 1€ $2. For this reason, it is most beneficial for the next of kin or legal representative to pay for services in Euros.

For reference exchange rate information, please go to <http://web.gfs.state.gov/xrates.htm>. All fees and exchange rates are approximate and subject to change without notice.

Cargo Services – airfreight charges

An airline transportation bill can be obtained through the one of the companies below offering cargo services. The airline determines shipment costs after the remains are accepted for shipment. The approximate weight of a casket prepared for shipment is 200 kilos for an adult and 100 kilos for a child. Please note that there are no direct flights from Pristina to the United States so there must be at least one stop in a Western European country. If the remains change airlines, they must enter quarantine and remain there for 24 hours; any associated costs are included in the shipment expenses. Cargo services should be notified in advance for the transportation of remains.

(7) Exhumation and shipment

Disinterment and shipment to the United States of remains that have already been interred locally is possible. The request can be made to a funeral home, which must then seek permission with the Kosovo Food and Veterinary Agency. Estimated costs for exhumation, preparation, and air shipment of the remains to the United States can run approximately $10,500 to $14,500 depending on final destination.

(8) Autopsies

An autopsy is required only by the order of prosecutor. Contact information is available at <http://www.psh-ks.net/?page=2,2>. The U.S. Embassy cannot prevent the authorities from conducting an autopsy when required, nor can it require one when not required under local law.

(9) Remarks: Airport Service to/from Kosovo

The Pristina airport is subject to unannounced closures during the months of October, November, December, January, and February due to thick fog. In these cases, flights sometimes arrive at Skopje, Macedonia (130km from Pristina) or Tirana, Albania (about 250km from Pristina).

(10). Consular Report of Death of an American Citizen Abroad

The “Consular Report of Death of an American Citizen Abroad” is an official report that provides the essential facts concerning the death of a U.S. citizen, and is based on the Kosovo death certificate.

In order to assist you with legal matters that may arise as a result of the death of your relative, certified copies of the “Consular Report of Death of an American Citizen Abroad” prepared by the U.S. Embassy will be forwarded to you as soon as possible. This document is in English and can generally be used in U.S. courts to help settle estate matters, bank accounts, insurance policies, and similar matters.

To complete the Report of the Death Abroad, the next of kin or legal representative must complete and submit a list of information, which is sent by the Embassy to the next of kin by email. To obtain a duplicate of this list, please send an email to consularpristina@state.gov or call the office. Upon receipt of this information and the local Death Certificate, the ACS unit will prepare the “Consular Report of Death of an American Citizen Abroad” and send originals to the next of kin and/or legal representative. Up to twenty certified copies of the Report of Death are normally issued at the time of death, and will be provided free of charge.

If in the future you find that you need additional copies, please review the information available at the “Request a copy of a Consular Report of Death Abroad”.

Part V. Profile of Religions of the Host Country and Religious Services available to visitors.

The U.S. government estimates the total population at 1.85 million (July 2013 estimate). Local census data identifies 95.6 percent of the population as Muslim, 2.2 percent as Roman Catholic, and 1.4 percent as Serbian Orthodox. Census categories for “other,” “none,” or “no response” each constitute less than 1 percent. The largest Catholic communities are in Gjakove/Djakovica, Kline/Klina, Prizren, Janjevo, and Prishtine/Pristina. Most Serbian Orthodox Church members reside in ethnically Serb towns and enclaves. Small Protestant populations live in most cities, with the largest concentration located in Prishtine/Pristina. The Jewish community resides primarily in Prizren. The majority of the Muslim population belongs to the Hanafi school. Religion and ethnicity are often linked, with Kosovo Serbs generally belonging to the Serbian Orthodox Church, while the majority of religiously active citizens of Albanian descent identify themselves as Muslim.

(FROM <http://www.state.gov/documents/organization/222443.pdf>. See Background Notes for additional information: <http://www.state.gov/r/pa/ei/bgn/100931.htm>)

Catholic Mass is offered in English every Saturday evening, Sunday morning, and Monday evening at the Catholic Church in Ulpiana (a Pristina neighborhood). A Protestant church called the Fellowship of the Lord’s People is active in Pristina and offers activities organized by the church, as well as English-language services on Sunday mornings. There are also multi-denominational services (including LDS and earth-based religions) at KFOR HQ and at Camp Bondsteel, the American military installation, about 45 minutes south of Pristina. There is no Jewish synagogue in Kosovo, but there is an active community in Skopje, about 75 minutes south of Pristina. Numerous mosques are located in the city, usually opened only for services or tours.
