TRAVELER'S TIP: MEDICAL INSURANCE

Paying a little now can save you a LOT later. Obtaining medical treatment and hospital care abroad can be expensive, and medical evacuation to the U.S. can cost more than $50,000. U.S. medical insurance is generally not accepted outside the United States. Social Security Medicare and Medicaid programs do not provide coverage for hospital or medical costs outside the United States.

Check your insurance policy. If it does not cover you abroad, it is a good idea to consider purchasing a short-term policy that does. There are health insurance policies designed specifically to cover travel. Many travel agents and private companies offer insurance plans that will cover health care expenses incurred overseas including medical evacuations. The names of some of the companies offering short-term health and emergency assistance policies are listed under insurance information on the Bureau of Consular Affairs website.

If your insurance policy does include coverage outside of the U.S., carry both the insurance policy identity card showing the coverage and a claim form. Very few health insurance companies cover a medical evacuation back to the U.S. You may need to obtain insurance to cover a medical evacuation.

Country Information Sheet on Kosovo: Health Section updated January 2015

Medical facilities in Kosovo consist of private medical clinics and the government sponsored University Clinical Center. Quality controls are lacking in many medical facilities and their services are very basic. Medical care is below Western European or U.S. standards. U.S. or Western European licensed physicians and specialists are not available in Kosovo. Clinics frequently lack medical supplies and may not follow U.S. hygiene standards. The KFOR Medical Division does not provide care or medical evacuation for non-military personnel. Routine vaccinations are recommended for travel to Kosovo, and include Hepatitis A vaccination, Hepatitis B vaccination, Polio, up to date Tetanus, Measles Mumps and Rubella. The CDC recommended vaccines for the children such as Hib, Rotavirus, Inactivated Polio, Pneumococcal and Varicella are not available in Kosovo.

Medical facilities outside Pristina have very limited capabilities. Emergency and major medical care requiring surgery and hospital care is often inadequate because of a lack of medical specialists, diagnostic aids, medical supplies, and prescription drugs. There are very few ambulances in Kosovo and the ambulance will automatically take you to the public hospital; therefore, injured or seriously ill U.S. citizens may be required to take taxis or other immediately available vehicles to the nearest major hospital rather than waiting for ambulances to arrive. If you have been previously diagnosed with a medical condition, please consult your personal health care provider before travel. As some prescription drugs may not be available locally, you may also wish to bring extra supplies of required medications along with your prescription documentation. U.S. citizens should be alert of public corruption reports involving medical institutions. Both public and private medical institutions have been the target of such allegations. If you encounter requests which appear to be corrupt while obtaining medical care, please report them to the local authorities and you may wish to provide the police report to the U.S. Embassy as well.

Electricity shortages result in sporadic blackouts throughout the country, which can affect food storage capabilities of restaurants and shops. While some restaurants and food stores have generators to store food properly, you should take care that food is cooked thoroughly to reduce the risk of food-borne illness. Tap water is not considered potable or safe to drink. You should purchase bottled water or drinks while in country. Air pollution is also a problem, particularly in Pristina and during the winter months. Travelers with previous history of upper respiratory ailments or asthma like symptoms should consult their doctor prior to travel and consider the impact seasonal smog and heavy particulate pollution may have on them.

If you have pre-existing medical problems you should carry a letter from the attending physician, describing the medical condition and any prescription medications, including the generic name of prescribed drugs. Any medications you carry overseas should be left in their original containers and be clearly labeled. Some U.S. prescription medications are illegal in foreign countries and may subject you to arrest. Be sure to check with the foreign embassy of the country you are visiting or transiting en-route to make sure your medications are not considered to be illegal narcotics in that country.

You can find detailed information on vaccinations and other health precautions on the CDC website. For information about outbreaks of infectious diseases abroad, consult the World Health Organization \(WHO\) website, which contains additional health information for travelers, including detailed country-specific health information.

Due to the medical limitations described above in the Country Information Sheet on Kosovo, those in possession of a valid passport may also wish to expand their regional medical options by reviewing U.S. Embassy Skopje’s medical list, here. A valid passport is required to travel between Kosovo and Macedonia.
