BASIC FUNCTION OF POSITION

Job holder is a senior technical advisor responsible for Health Management Information Systems (HMIS) strengthening within the context of in-country Global Health Security (GHS)/Ebola and other infectious disease activities. Job holder provides technical oversight of the GHS data reporting requirements and development and strengthening of data, information systems and software that will improve data flow from the sub-national to the national level of the host country. To carry out this responsibility job holder provides the USG team, Ministry of Health, and other implementing partners' technical recommendations and expertise in the design, development, improvement, and maintenance of information systems that strengthen health service effectiveness and efficiency. Both the advisory and managerial roles require HMIS technical expertise, results-oriented analysis, clear communication, advocacy, and close collaboration with implementing partners and donors.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

Applicants must address each required qualification listed below with specific information supporting each item. Failure to do so may result in a determination that the applicant is not qualified.

- 1. EDUCATION: A Master's degree (or host country equivalent) in Public Health, Information Science, Health Information Management, Computer Science, Computer Engineering, or related Information Systems field is required.
- 2. EXPERIENCE: A minimum of five years of progressively responsible, professional-level of experience in designing, developing, implementing and maintaining health data information systems to support and evaluate development or health-related program activities is required.
- 3. LANGUAGE: Level IV (fluent– speaking/reading/writing) in English is required.
- 4. The incumbent must possess a detailed knowledge of health delivery information systems, database development and management, hardware and software installation, planning for large scale information system implementation, health informatics systems, health information technology and applications in resource limited environments. The incumbent must have detailed knowledge of program evaluation strategies and techniques as well as the translation of evaluation data as it pertains to the improvement of program operations, guidelines and policies. High level of competency in managing data information systems on large scale health or disease prevention activities required. Working knowledge of the objectives and operations of the USG, or the program activities of other international donor organizations, is required. In-depth specialist knowledge of USG public health programs, strategies, methods, processes and techniques used to plan, develop, implement and evaluate results of public health disease programs is required. Good working knowledge of team management techniques to plan, organize and direct multi-disciplinary project teams and activities is required. Good working knowledge of overall administrative requirements, budgeting and fiscal management in support of contracts/cooperative agreements/grants/purchase requisitions is required.
- 5. Ability to analyze, understand and inform new health management information systems, health information and communications technology (ICT) program design, and implementation approaches is required. This includes application of public health informatics techniques and use of ICTs and methods for data collection, analysis, use, and reporting. Ability to design or modify sophisticated computer applications to meet data collection requirements is required. Strong oral and written communications skills are required to develop and maintain effective, sustainable working relationships with national and international working partners and to prepare required written reports. Strong leadership skills are required to lead results-driven project teams and workgroups. Ability to analyze, understand and discuss new program design, management and implementation approaches is required. This includes the development of survey indicators and monitoring systems, evaluation designs, use of reliable and valid instruments, field experience in data collection, and methods in data analysis. The incumbent will be expected to exercise considerable ingenuity and tact in applying guidelines to unique and different settings, as the work is highly complex and can be threatening to stakeholders. Considerable innovation will be required to influence other collaborative organizations engaged in Ebola M&E programs to adopt appropriate strategies for their program activities. Intermediate user level of word processing, spreadsheets and databases is required. Strong skills in interpretation of program monitoring and evaluation data are required.
