Ambassador Wohlers signs Fulbright agreement

October 6th 2011

On October 6th, Ambassador Wohlers and Minister of Education Kralev signed an agreement on the U.S.-Macedonia Fulbright education exchange program.

The agreement formalized greater opportunities for student and scholars from both countries to share ideas, to develop greater understanding, and to contribute even more to their own communities when they return home.

Over 230 Macedonians have participated in this flagship exchange program over the years. This year sixteen Fulbrighters are involved: eleven from Macedonia will study and do research in the United States, and five have come from America to teach, research and study in Macedonia.
