

Single Country Promotion Opens New Doors For Transition Networks

April 19, 2012, the Econ/Commercial Office of the U.S. Embassy welcomed 40 company representatives for a Single Company Promotion event organized in support of Transition Networks exploration of new business opportunities in Macedonia. Transition Networks, headquartered in Minnetonka, MN, is a company offering networking connectivity solutions that make the conversion between disparate media types possible. Transition Networks products can make network design more cost effective, better performing, faster, and more reliable, while helping companies leverage their existing networking infrastructure. Transition Networks has had a presence throughout South – East Europe for many years and is now looking to expand its presence in Macedonia as well. The Embassy-hosted event allowed the company the opportunity to present their capabilities to the key network service providers in this market.

Danielle Grubbs, Pol/Econ Officer (left) and Arben Gega, Commercial Specialist (right) making the final consultations before the kick off of the Single Company Promotion event for Transition Networks.

Arben Gega, Commercial Specialist and Danielle Grubbs, Pol/Econ Officer, greeting the company representatives to attend the Single Company Promotion for Transition Networks.

Danielle Grubbs, Pol/Econ Officer, making the opening remarks in front of the company representatives attending the Single Company Promotion for Transition Networks.

Transition Networks reps. giving their presentations to the prospective customers