Join us for a live and interactive virtual film screening of The March, a 1964 documentary by James Blue about the 1963 civil rights March on Washington. The program will open with brief remarks by the KL sponsors and then by Mr. John Robinson, Director of the Office of Civil Rights at the U.S. Department of State, live, from Washington. Mr. Robinson will introduce the 30-minute film, which will be streamed online in its entirety. After the film, stay for a virtual discussion with Washington, DC-based civil rights experts who will answer your questions and comments submitted online before or during the program.

The March is a documentary examining one of the largest political rallies for human rights in United States history. The March on Washington August 28, 1963. called for civil and economic rights for African Americans. During the march, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. stood in front of the Lincoln Memorial and delivered his historic "I Have a Dream" speech advocating for racial harmony.

Format: This program will be a live film screening and interactive video webchat in English. Please click on the URL above to participate.
