WEB SITES

Conservation International – <http://www.conservation.org/learn/culture/ecotourism/>

Ecotourism only works when it yields economic benefits to local people, supports conservation and reduces the human impact of travel. It requires the active and educated participation of tourists and the travel industry alike, and it involves everyone from the visitor to the tour operator and airline, the hotelier and the local labor force to agriculturists to individual conservationists. Conservation International's role is to bring these parties to the table in key locations to develop nature-based tourism strategies that are community-driven and conservation focused.

Ecotourism and Sustainable Tourism Conference – <http://www.ecotourismconference.org/>

The ESTC is a one-of-a-kind industry conference promoting sustainability in tourism. Organized by The International Ecotourism Society (TIES), the conference builds upon the successes of past national, regional and international conferences by TIES and our partners.

Ecotourism Environmental Directory – <http://environmentdirectoryecotourism.com/>
