INVITATION

AmCham Mongolia is pleased to invite you to attend the third annual U.S. Trade Mission scheduled to take place June 20-24th, 2016 in Washington, DC. The Trade Mission is a great opportunity for Mongolian businesses to develop a strong network in the U.S., seize real business development opportunities with American companies, and advocate for policy issues that are important to Mongolia directly with senior level policy makers in DC.

The 2016 U.S Trade Mission coincides with the 2016 APCAC Doorknock, which is an excellent opportunity to network with leaders of the private sector from the Asia-Pacific region and the U.S. and to discuss key policy issues affecting the Asia-Pacific region.

Another benefit of the U.S. Trade Mission is that AmCham Mongolia can help arrange meetings with companies you may wish to meet with in the U.S. during the trip.

ABOUT APCAC

Established in 1968, the Asia Pacific Council of American Chambers of Commerce is an association of 29 American Chambers of Commerce in the Asia-Pacific region. APCAC's collective membership represents over 15,000 businesses, over 50,000 overseas American workers and over 10 million employees. American enterprises provided over $620 billion USD in trade and investment in the APCAC region in 2014.

ANNUAL APCAC DOORKNOCK IN WASHINGTON, D.C

APCAC hosts its annual "Doorknock" in Washington, D.C. each summer. Delegations from APCAC countries throughout the Asia-Pacific region head to Washington to engage Congressional leaders, Administration officials, and influential American thought leaders for important policy meetings. The annual APCAC Doorknock is an excellent way to leverage APCAC's collective voice to advocate for policies that are important to strengthening American commerce in Asia.
