b. Scope of work:

The work performed by the Contractor shall consist of furnishing all materials, labor, supervision, tools necessary to provide full maintenance services of switchgear system in Embassy. AMC will be valid for the period of one year from day it is executed which will involve one time visit by authorized person. The main scope of this AMC is to meet recommended check list requirement for weekly, monthly, semi-annually, annually, twice a year and Thrice a year operation and maintenance tasks. Beside this, following tasks needs to be performed irrespective of whether it is stated or not:

ATS preventive maintenance checklist: The following is a list of the basic tasks required to maintain an ASCO ATS.

- Review equipment history. What failures have occurred?
- Review the drawings and other documentation. Are the relevant drawings current?
- Perform visual inspections, thermal scanning, partial discharge testing, and other testing before the outage so you can take corrective action when it happens.
- Identify and order all materials required for the outage. Take lead times into account.
- Conduct the tailgate safety meeting to be sure each person understands any dangers, special circumstances, and related work assignments. During the outage:
  - Shutdown the switchgear and apply protective grounds. Follow lockout/tagout procedure. Barricade and put up warning signs as appropriate.
  - De-energize the switchgear (ATSs equipped with an isolation bypass feature do not need to be de-energized).
  - Remove the arc chutes and pole covers. Consult the manufacturer's information for proper procedure. This step will allow visual inspection of the main and arcing contacts.
  - Test and recalibrate all trip-sensing and time-delay functions in the switchgear. Depending on the manufacturer, the steps required here will vary. The focus here should be to verify and record what current settings are and to ensure the current adjustments meet the customer's needs and expectations. If adjustments are necessary, the means to make and verify those adjustments need to be examined. For example, a voltage pick-up or dropout adjustment may require the use of a variable source such as a variable ac transformer. The standby engine can be a source of variable frequency, etc. In any case, the manufacturer is your source for information concerning these adjustments.
- Vacuum the accumulated dust from the switchgear and accessory panels. Never use air to blow out dirt. Subjecting the TS unit to compressed air may have a detrimental effect by forcing dirt and debris into the switch mechanism.
- Inspect for moisture or signs of previous wetness or dripping.
- Clean grime with an approved solvent. Consult the OEM for a recommendation.
- Inspect all insulating parts for cracks or discoloration due to excessive heat. Part of any complete maintenance program is an infrared scan. This work is done prior to maintenance with normal loads applied to the gear being scanned. The resultant report will define problem areas. The use of this information will allow the maintenance provider to take a proactive approach.

- Inspect all main arcing contacts for excessive erosion. Arcing contacts are intended to be sacrificial by nature. They take the brunt of the energy when making or breaking the load. Careful attention should be paid to these contacts.
- Inspect all main current-carrying contacts for pitting and discoloration due to excessive heat.
- Inspect all control relay contacts for excessive erosion and discoloration due to excessive heat.
- Manually operate the main transfer movement to check proper contact alignment, deflection, gap, and wiping action.
- Check all cable and control wire connections to the transfer switch control and sensing panel and other system components and tighten if necessary.
- Re-energize the switchgear and conduct a test by simulating a normal source failure.
- Check and correct any drawing inconsistencies or connection questions.
- Make any planned repairs, changes, or upgrades.
- Perform measurements and tests and based on test results, make additional repairs.
- Interview crews about problems they may have encountered. Ask them for recommendations for improving response efforts during the next outage or preventing problems that occurred in this one.
- Prepare a report of maintenance outage and test results. Include trending and analysis of results and recommendations for future maintenance as appropriate.

(4)  Have,  have not, within a three-year period preceding this offer, been notified of any delinquent Federal taxes in an amount that exceeds $3,500 for which the liability remains unsatisfied.

A liability is not finally determined if there is a pending administrative or judicial challenge. In the case of a judicial challenge to the liability, the liability is not finally determined until all judicial appeal rights have been exhausted.

(B) The taxpayer is delinquent in making payment. A taxpayer is delinquent if the taxpayer has failed to pay the tax liability when full payment was due and required. A taxpayer is not delinquent in cases where enforced collection action is precluded.

(ii) Examples.

(A) The taxpayer has received a statutory notice of deficiency, under I.R.C. §6212, which entitles the taxpayer to seek Tax Court review of a proposed tax deficiency. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek Tax Court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(B) The IRS has filed a notice of Federal tax lien with respect to an assessed tax liability, and the taxpayer has been issued a notice under I.R.C. §6320 entitling the taxpayer to request a hearing with the IRS Office of Appeals Contesting the lien filing, and to further appeal to the Tax Court if the IRS determines to sustain the lien filing. In the course of the hearing, the taxpayer is entitled to contest the underlying tax liability because the taxpayer has had no prior opportunity to contest the liability. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek tax court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(C) The taxpayer has entered into an installment agreement pursuant to I.R.C. §6159. The taxpayer is making timely payments and is in full compliance with the agreement terms. The taxpayer is not delinquent because the taxpayer is not currently required to make full payment.

(D) The taxpayer has filed for bankruptcy protection. The taxpayer is not delinquent because enforced collection action is stayed under 11 U.S.C. §362 (the Bankruptcy Code).
