US Coast Guard Visits Palau

On February 3, 2012 (Friday), US Coast Guard—Assateague docked at Malakal Port—Koror for a three (3) day visit to Palau. Ambassador Reed-Rowe visited the vessel soon after their arrival and welcomed the crew to Palau. The vessel captained by Lt. Lisa Rodman accepted vessel tours for students from local schools. The first group of students from Palau High School toured the 140ft. vessel with their chaperone, Peace Corps Volunteer Scott Reinbolt. Tours were conducted throughout the day. The Crew visited Koror and other sites during their off-shore rest.
