

Warden Message

January 14, 2010

Dear Warden and/or Registrant:

The U.S. Embassy in Quito wishes to inform American citizens visiting or resident in Ecuador that demonstrations are anticipated in Quito on Friday, January 15 and in Ambato on Saturday, January 16, 2010.

Quito, Pichincha Province

On Friday, January 15, at approximately 10:00 a.m., members of the Frente Unitaria de Trabajadores (FUT) and other workers unions are anticipated to gather in front of the Government of Ecuador Social Security building next to El Ejido Park and march to the Presidential Palace. The demonstrators are expected to demonstrate in favor of an increased minimum wage. It is unknown how many individuals will participate in the march, but it is anticipated that the demonstrations will cause traffic congestion in the vicinity of the Presidential Palace.

Ambato, Tungurahua Province

On Saturday January 16, members of the Proud and Sovereign Fatherland (PAIS) Party will gather in Ambato to celebrate the three year anniversary of the current administration. This gathering is expected to have large numbers of participants and traffic will be congested within the city and possibly on highways to and from Ambato.

Similar protests in the past have led to violent confrontation between demonstrators and security forces. Police response to such demonstrations may include water cannons and tear gas. Public transportation is often disrupted during these events. While this demonstration is expected to be peaceful, demonstrations can turn violent with little or no warning.

American citizens are strongly urged to avoid all areas where demonstrations are in progress and should be prepared for intermittent road closures, including major routes throughout the country. If you should encounter demonstrations and/or roadblocks, you should not attempt to continue the planned travel or confront those at the roadblock. Instead, you should avoid areas where individuals are demonstrating and in case of roadblocks, find an alternate means of arriving at your destination or return to the origin.
