SECTION 4 - EVALUATION FACTORS

1. BASIS FOR AWARD

The Government will award a contract only to an offeror whose technical proposal establishes that it can meet the needs of the Government. Among offerors in this category, the Government considers technical to be more important than price or cost in value. The proposed price or cost must be considered reasonable and must reflect the proposed technical approach. The Government will evaluate proposals first from a technical standpoint without regard to proposed prices. The Government may award a contract to other than the lowest priced offeror. If two or more offers are considered technically equivalent, price or cost may become of primary importance in determining the proposal most advantageous to the Government.

The Government will determine acceptability by assessing the offeror's compliance with the terms of the RFQ to include the technical information required by Section 3. The quoter shall submit a completed solicitation, including Sections 1 and 5.

2. COMPETITIVE RANGE DETERMINATION AND REJECTION OF OFFERS

The Government intends to make award without discussions on the basis of initial proposals received. However, the Government may elect to make award with discussions if it is determined to be in the Government's best interest.

If the Government elects to make award with discussions, it reserves the right, before requesting a final proposal revision, to:

- a) limit the number of offerors in the competitive range to the greatest number of proposals that will permit an adequate competition among the technically acceptable proposals;
- b) make more than one competitive range determination;
- c) conduct more than one round of discussions; and
- d) conduct more than one round of proposal revisions.

The Government reserves the right to reject an offer if one of the following conditions exists:

- a) Offeror fails to submit any of the required proposal documents required by Section 3;
- b) Offeror submits a cost/price proposal that cannot be adequately explained or substantiated;
- c) Offeror submits an offer that could not be made technically acceptable without a major rewrite.

3. CONTRACTOR RESPONSIBILITY

The Government will determine contractor responsibility by analyzing whether the apparent successful offeror complies with the requirements of FAR 9.1, including:

- Adequate financial resources or the ability to obtain them;
- Ability to comply with the required performance period, taking into consideration all existing commercial and governmental business commitments;
- Satisfactory record of integrity and business ethics;
- Necessary organization, experience, and skills or the ability to obtain them;
- Necessary equipment and facilities or the ability to obtain them; and
- Be otherwise qualified and eligible to receive an award under applicable laws and regulations.

4. TECHNICAL EVALUATION FACTORS

(a) The Government will evaluate the offeror's technical proposal and price. One of the factors in the technical proposal, the "Taste Test", will be evaluated on an overall "Pass/Fail" basis.

An offeror whose food presented at the taste test is not considered to possess a reflection of the authentic taste will not be considered a responsible offeror under this solicitation, and their proposal will not be considered for award.

(b) The remainder of the technical proposal will be evaluated under two (2) factors. The factors listed below are of equal value:

1. Equipment and Availability
2. Services Capability

Each factor will receive an adjectival rating of Outstanding, Excellent, Satisfactory, Marginal, or Unsatisfactory based on the Government's analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of the proposal with respect to that factor, based on the considerations set forth below for each factor. The contractor shall receive an overall rating for its technical proposal as either, Outstanding, Excellent, Satisfactory, Marginal, or Unsatisfactory based on the Government's best value analysis.

(c)) Past performance will be separately evaluated and also receive a risk rating of low, moderate, high or neutral. Past performance risk will be considered as an aspect of technical merit in conducting the best value analysis under 4 (b). The Government will evaluate the offeror's past performance based on the information provided about three examples of work in providing support similar in nature to this effort. The Government will evaluate the required effort (i.e. similar size, scope and complexity).

(d) A price evaluation will be conducted as set-forth in this section and receive a rating as either reasonable or non-reasonable.

(e)) Selection of the firm(s) to perform under this contract will be based on the Government's assessment of the best overall value. The contractor's proposal shall receive an adjective rating for each factor which will be reviewed in accordance with the evaluation criteria identified in this solicitation below:

- 1) Taste test. Quoters will be evaluated based the presented menu items' reflection of the authentic taste of each particular menu item. An offeror whose food presented at the taste test is not considered to possess a reflection of the authentic taste will not be considered a responsible offeror under this solicitation, and their proposal will not be considered for award.
- 2) Equipment and Availability. Offerors will be evaluated on the degree to which they have demonstrated the ability to provide and have access to adequate supplies of the equipment items for serving 2,500 guests. The adequacy and capability of the proposed equipment to fulfill the requirements of Section 1, i.e. adequate quantities of serving equipment, stemware and wait staff will be evaluated.
- 3) Services Capability. Offerors will be evaluated on the degree to which they have demonstrated the ability to provide adequate staff for serving 2,500 guests. The adequacy and capability of the proposed staff will be evaluated.

This evaluation may be used both for determining responsibility and for qualitative evaluation purposes. In conducting the evaluation of proposals, the Government reserves the right to utilize all evaluation information available at the time of evaluation, whether provided by the offeror in its proposal or obtained from other sources.

The Government will rely on information contained in its own records (such as Government audit agencies, websites, etc.), and information made available through commercial sources

5. PRICE PROPOSAL EVALUATION FACTORS

The pricing submitted in response to the solicitation is for evaluation purposes

The Government will conduct an evaluation to determine ultimately if the overall estimated price in Section 1 is fair and reasonable. In doing so, the Government will examine the completeness, accuracy, and reasonableness of the offeror's estimated prices for all the items specified in Section 1, III. Pricing. The Government will use one or more of the proposal analysis techniques stipulated in FAR 15.404 to conduct the evaluation. This evaluation will also include a review of the Representation and Certifications.

The Government reserves the right to reject proposals that are unreasonably low or high in price.

(B) The taxpayer is delinquent in making payment. A taxpayer is delinquent if the taxpayer has failed to pay the tax liability when full payment was due and required. A taxpayer is not delinquent in cases where enforced collection action is precluded.

(ii) Examples.

(A) The taxpayer has received a statutory notice of deficiency, under I.R.C. §6212, which entitles the taxpayer to seek Tax Court review of a proposed tax deficiency. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek Tax Court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(B) The IRS has filed a notice of Federal tax lien with respect to an assessed tax liability, and the taxpayer has been issued a notice under I.R.C. §6320 entitling the taxpayer to request a hearing with the IRS Office of Appeals contesting the lien filing, and to further appeal to the Tax Court if the IRS determines to sustain the lien filing. In the course of the hearing, the taxpayer is entitled to contest the underlying tax liability because the taxpayer has had no prior opportunity to contest the liability. This is not a delinquent tax because it is not a final tax liability. Should the taxpayer seek tax court review, this will not be a final tax liability until the taxpayer has exercised all judicial appeal rights.

(C) The taxpayer has entered into an installment agreement pursuant to I.R.C. §6159. The taxpayer is making timely payments and is in full compliance with the agreement terms. The taxpayer is not delinquent because the taxpayer is not currently required to make full payment.

(D) The taxpayer has filed for bankruptcy protection. The taxpayer is not delinquent because enforced collection action is stayed under 11 U.S.C. §362 (the Bankruptcy Code).
