

“Creating Educational Opportunities for all (females too!)”

When: Tuesday 15 March 2016 from 15:00—17:00

Where: U.S. Embassy Kigali, multipurpose room

Speaker: Ashesi University (Ghana) President Patrick Awuah

Ashesi University President Patrick Awuah on campus with Ashesi students

Progress: The [Ashesi] University has made great strides towards achieving a diverse student body. Forty eight percent (48%) of students are women. (From Ashesi University’s strategic plan)

Ashesi University President Patrick Awuah lives and works in Ghana. He is visiting Rwanda during women’s history month to speak about the importance of gender equality in sub Saharan Africa. President Awuah will give a brief talk, then have a conversation with the audience about gender issues.

for information, please contact:
Charles Mugabo, Public Affairs Specialist
Public Affairs Section, U.S. Embassy Kigali
0788526697 (mobile phone)
mugaboc@state.gov