

The American Center, Colombo presents a workshop open to the public

BE A BLOGGER

Speaker

Steve Fox

To Whom

Media persons, students, social media enthusiast, web designers, NGO's and general public

Date

Thursday, December 16th
3:30 p.m.
American Center Auditorium

RSVP early as seating is limited - Tel: 2498106 /
2498163 or Email: amcentersl@state.gov

American Center, No. 44, Galle Road, Colombo 3.

Entrance Free!

Steve joined the journalism faculty at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in August 2007 and has been working to incorporate multimedia across the curriculum.

He began teaching part-time at the University of Maryland in 1998 and has spoken at a number of conferences on issues including Web journalism, blogging, ethics and political coverage.

Steve has consulted for several start-up Web site and also collaborated with Mark Briggs and Jan Shaffer in producing Journalism 2.0: How to Survive and Thrive — A Digital Literacy Guide for the The Information Age. Steve has more than 20 years of experience as an editor and reporter for print and online publications, including 10 as an editor at washingtonpost.com. He also edits part-time for espn.com with the NFL and college football blog network.