

Rhino Horn Trade

Poaching of South African white rhinoceros has received significant media attention in recent months. Despite increasing public awareness and enforcement efforts, the number of rhinos killed by poachers has skyrocketed in recent years. Many media reports implicate rising demand for rhino horn in Vietnam in this poaching epidemic. Come to the American Center to learn about the current status of rhinos in Africa and get more information about rhino horn consumption in Vietnam. U.S. journalist Dan Rather's documentary "Horn of Africa" will also be screened. Don't miss it!
