

Application to the NeXXt Scholars Program for Fall of 2013

Please complete the application below for each nominee to the NeXXt Scholars Program. In addition to being used to track each student during this year's application cycle, this information will be used by the NeXXt Scholars Program in recruiting and expansion efforts.

The application process for the NeXXt Scholars Program has 2 steps: filling out this survey and submitting a nomination letter to every women's college to which the student is applying. A copy of this nomination letter must also be emailed to nexxtscholars@state.gov. If you have questions about any step of this process, please email the NeXXt Scholars mailbox at the email address indicated.

Nickname of Student

Date of birth listed as day, month, and year. *

Student's Country of Citizenship *

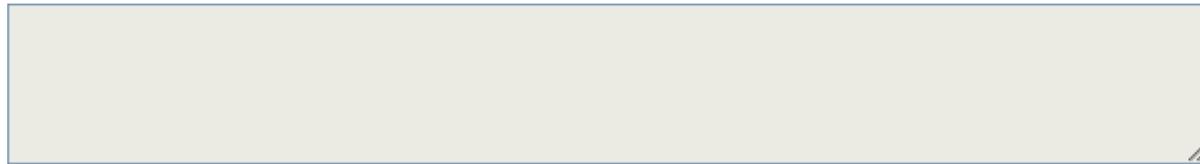

If the student's country of citizenship was marked as other, please indicate the country name or explain.

Student's Country of Residence *

If the student's country of residence was marked as other, please indicate the country name or explain.

If the applicant's country of citizenship and country of residence do not match, please explain (e.g., studying at boarding school, temporary relocation with intentions to return, family immigrated, etc.).

What is the student's intended science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) major? If multiple career fields are being considered, please list. *

Application to Women's Colleges Participating in the NeXXt Scholars Program

What is the number of NeXXt Scholars Program-participating women's colleges to which the student is applying? *

The students are encouraged to apply widely and include some back-up or safety schools. A safety school is a college that the student will almost certainly get into based on her test scores, high school grades, and other qualifications. Applying to top-ranked colleges as well as safety schools is intended to ensure that the student is admitted to at least one institution and may provide the applicant options when deciding where to matriculate.

If other was selected in the list above, please explain.

Note that the survey contains a section intended for reporting applications to colleges that are not part of the NeXXt Scholars Program.

Has the student applied Early Decision or Early Action to any school? *

Early Decision or Early Action gives priority consideration to the student since she indicates that this single college is her first choice. The deadlines are always prior to those for Regular Decision. If admitted under Early Decision or Early Action, the acceptance is binding so the applicant is required to matriculate.

- Yes
- No
- Unknown

If the student applied Early Decision or Early Action to any school, please list the college's name.

Recommendation

If desired, please explain why the student should be admitted as part of the NeXXt Scholars Program. This section can be used to discuss why the student is interested in a STEM career, her credentials, special reasons for desiring to study at a women's college in the United States, etc.

Although this is separate from the recommendation that is intended for colleges, the explanation will assist the Program with understanding its applicant pool and impact.

Nomination Letters

Have the required nomination letters been sent to the women's colleges yet? *

This is a requirement as the women's colleges have no other way of knowing which students are applying as part of the NeXXt Scholars Program. Please send a copy of the nomination letter to nexxtscholars@state.gov for tracking and follow-up purposes.

- Yes
- Not yet but plan to soon!

Have the nomination letters been forwarded to the NeXXt Scholars Program mailbox (nexxtscholars@state.gov)? *

Application to Colleges that are Outside of the Program

This section is intended to ascertain how widely the student is applying to undergraduate institutions in the United States and other countries. Please exclude women's colleges that are participating in the NeXXt Scholars Program from this list.

Considering only U.S. schools and excluding women's colleges, how many co-educational (co-ed) undergraduate institutions is this student applying to?

Co-ed colleges matriculate both sexes and women attend the same classes as men. In the count below, do not include women's colleges that admit just females but have collaborative agreements with neighboring universities that permit students to take certain classes at another school.

If the student is applying to co-ed institutions in the United States, please list which ones.

Is the student applying to colleges/universities in countries other than the United States?

- Yes, one or more colleges/universities in the student's country of citizenship
- Yes, one or more colleges/universities in the student's country of residence
- Yes, colleges/universities in and outside of the student's country of citizenship or residence
- No, the student is only applying to schools in the United States
- Unknown

If the student is applying to college in her own country, please list the institutions (name of university and country).

If the student is applying to colleges outside of the United States, indicate if the institution is co-ed or enrolls only women.

Please use this space to provide any additional information on the student's college application patterns.

Thank you!
