

1st - Marko Smiljanić
Gimnazija Banja Luka

I can.
I can wake up early in the morning to see the sunrise.
I can help my mother to plant the flowers.
I can take my dog for a walk.
I can mow my lawn.
I can mow my neighbour's lawn.
I can say good morning to my neighbour.
I can look my neighbour in the eyes and put his ethnicity aside.
I can pet a stray dog.
I can give food to a homeless person.
I can smile at strangers for no reason, just to make their day better.
I can care about other people's tragedies and still care about my own people.
I can appreciate other cultures.
I can learn other people's language just so I could appreciate their culture more.
I can make my own choice despite the opinion of others.
I can be a theist.
I can be an atheist.
I can volunteer.
I can say no to alcohol.
I can say no to drugs.
I can say no to violence.
I can recycle.
I can protect my peer from getting bullied.
I can take photographs.
I can make movies.
I can write a blog.
I can use social networks to actually connect with people.
I can spread love, not hate.
I can be a humanitarian.
I can tell my parents I love them more often.
I can judge people based on their actions, not their ethnicity nor religion.
I can care about my equal.
I can love my country.
I can.