Red Seas, White Sands, Blue Skies: An American Citizens Services Newsletter

Can you believe it is already 2015? According to some movies from the last century we are supposed to be riding around in flying cars, enjoying the services of our personal robots, and cruising the streets on our hoverboards by now.

While the Embassy can't offer hoverboard rides, we can offer a wide range of other services, and we look forward to providing those for you this year. We offer appointments between 1:00pm and 3:30pm on most business days to help you with first time passports, passport renewals, additional pages for existing passports, notary services, and Consular Reports of Birth Abroad. Appointments can be made online by following this link: <https://evisaforms.state.gov/acs/default.asp?postcode=RID&appcode=1>.

As January is a month when you start to make your travel plans for the year, please take the time this month to check the expiration date of your U.S. passports and Saudi visas. The Saudi government often issues a shorter visa validity if your U.S. passport expiration date is approaching, so be sure to renew your passport early.

January is also the beginning of tax season. Click here <http://www.irs.gov/Filing> to find answers to all of your questions regarding filing for 2014.

We continuously strive to communicate with as many Americans in our region as possible, so please share this with other Americans in your circle of influence. The best way to receive our messages is to register your email address at <https://step.state.gov/step/>. Additionally, our website, <http://riyadh.usembassy.gov/> offers a great deal of information about issues and concerns in this region. We will also hold another town hall meeting this year to communicate with you face to face. As always, we encourage you to reach out to us with any questions or concerns you may have and we look forward to staying in touch with you this year.

Best wishes to you and your families for a healthy and prosperous 2015!

Interest Rates Remain the Same for the First Quarter of 2015

WASHINGTON – The Internal Revenue Service today announced that IRS interest rates will remain the same for the calendar quarter beginning Jan. 1, 2015. The rates will be:

- three (3) percent for overpayments (two (2) percent in the case of a corporation);
- three (3) percent for underpayments;
- five (5) percent for large corporate underpayments; and
- one-half (0.5) percent for the portion of a corporate overpayment exceeding $10,000.

Under the Internal Revenue Code, the rate of interest is determined on a quarterly basis. For taxpayers other than corporations, the overpayment and underpayment rate is the federal short-term rate plus 3 percentage points.

Generally, in the case of a corporation, the underpayment rate is the federal short-term rate plus 3 percentage points and the overpayment rate is the federal short-term rate plus 2 percentage points. The rate for large corporate underpayments is the federal short-term rate plus 5 percentage points. The rate on the portion of a corporate overpayment of tax exceeding $10,000 for a taxable period is the federal short-term rate plus one-half (0.5) of a percentage point. The interest rates announced today are computed from the federal short-term rate determined during October 2014 to take effect Nov. 1, 2014, based on daily compounding.

Social Security Announces 1.7 Percent Benefit Increase for 2015

Monthly Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits for nearly 64 million Americans will increase 1.7 percent in 2015, the Social Security Administration announced today.

The 1.7 percent cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) will begin with benefits that more than 58 million Social Security beneficiaries receive in January 2015. Increased payments to more than 8 million SSI beneficiaries began on December 31, 2014. The Social Security Act ties the annual COLA to the increase in the Consumer Price Index as determined by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Some other changes that take effect in January of each year are based on the increase in average wages. Based on that increase, the maximum amount of earnings subject to the Social Security tax (taxable maximum) will increase to $118,500 from $117,000. Of the estimated 168 million workers who will pay Social Security taxes in 2015, about 10 million will pay higher taxes because of the increase in the taxable maximum.

Information about Medicare changes for 2015 is available at www.Medicare.gov

The Social Security Act provides for how the COLA is calculated. To read more, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/cola

Tax Season Opens As Planned Following Extenders Legislation

IR-2014-119, Dec. 29, 2014: WASHINGTON -- Following the passage of the extenders legislation, the Internal Revenue Service announced today it anticipates opening the 2015 filing season as scheduled in January. The IRS will begin accepting tax returns electronically on Jan. 20. Paper tax returns will begin processing at the same time. The decision follows Congress renewing a number of "extender" provisions of the tax law that expired at the end of 2013. These provisions were renewed by Congress through the end of 2014. The final legislation was signed into law Dec 19, 2014.

"We have reviewed the late tax law changes and determined there was nothing preventing us from continuing our updating and testing of our systems," said IRS Commissioner John Koskinen. "Our employees will continue an aggressive schedule of testing and preparation of our systems during the next month to complete the final stages needed for the 2015 tax season."

The IRS reminds taxpayers that filing electronically is the most accurate way to file a tax return and the fastest way to get a refund. There is no advantage to people filing tax returns on paper in early January instead of waiting for e-file to begin.

More information about IRS Free File and other information about the 2015 filing season will be available in January.

Washington Monument Activity

Located in Washington, D.C., at the western end of the National Mall, this four-sided stone structure (modeled after a classic Egyptian obelisk) honors the "Father of our Country," General, Founding Father, and the first President of the United States (1789-1797), George Washington.

At just over 555 feet tall, the Washington Monument towers over everything in Washington, D.C. and is one of the tallest masonry structures in the world.

Memorial stones from the 50 states, foreign countries, and organizations line the inside walls. Fifty flags surround the base of the Washington Monument and symbolize the 50 states of the Union. If you take the elevator to the pyramid top, windows in the observation room offer views of the Lincoln Memorial, the White House, the Jefferson Memorial, and the U.S. Capitol.

Located between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial lies the Reflecting Pool. This 2000 x 160 foot pool contains 7 million gallons of water. It was modeled after similar pools at Versailles and the Taj Mahal. The design of the pool minimizes wind ripples and sharpens the watery image of the Washington Monument.

Directions: Based on what you learned about the Washington Monument above, complete the paragraph below.
